

The usual solutions of this problem are based on using hybrid recommender techniques (see Section REF ) combining content and collaborative data

MAINCIT , CIT and sometimes they are accompanied by asking for some base information (such as age, location and preferred genres) from the users.

